

Tenants' Union
of queensland inc.

The Tenants' Union is a community organisation that provides free tenancy advice services for tenants and speaks out on behalf of tenant concerns. Our aim is to improve and protect the rights of all people who rent their home, including boarding house and caravan park residents.

The Tenants' Union:

- provides a statewide telephone advice service for tenants
Phone 3257 1108 (Brisbane callers) or 1800 177761 (Regional callers)
- provides a specialist legal service for tenancy matters
- provides statewide information, education and training for tenants & tenant advocates
- represents tenants' views and concerns to government, industry groups and the media; and
- campaigns for better tenancy laws and improved housing conditions for all tenants.

Around 30% of all Queenslanders rent their home. In some parts of the State up to half of all households rent privately from either a private lessor or real estate agent.

Many of the problems tenants face can be too big for one individual to tackle alone. Tenants need a group that will talk to government, media, lessor groups and real estate agents on our behalf. We need a group that can express our views and concerns.
